> Officers Still Bunning Clews On The Hack Murderer-Hilo News Notes and Lave Personals From Rainy City.

The superintendent of public works, STILL RUNNING CLEWS-A. McCandless, and his assistant, Mr. Rowell, came up to Mahukona by the Kinan last week and arrived in Hilo on Sunday, coming overland, says the Tribune. This is Mr. McCandless' first visit to Hilo, and it took him some time to master the intricacies of the town's formation and clearly distinguish north from south and Waianuenue street from Shipman street, al-cipal interests of the town and as many others as wished to be present, for the sake of having a "big talk" pro bono publico, and enable the Hiloite to take cuss the government, the superintendent and all their works. Accordingly. on Monday evening the following gentlemen met at the sheriff's office for the purposes aforesaid: Messrs. F. S. Lyman, Lambert, L. A. Andrews, G. H Williams, Baldwin, J. U. Smith, Fairer, Bosworth, Affonso, A. M. Wilson, W. H. Smith, Dr. M. Rice, Rogers, Stacker, E. N. Holmes, Day, Richards, Little, Beers,

M. V. Holmes, Fitzgerald, Schoen and Mr. McCandless opened the ball by giving some financial data, the exact nature of which the reporter does not now recall. The point brought out by him, however, was that there used to be a million and a half in the treasury.

At this point Sheriff Andrews remarked that the local road board money was about out, as a considerable portion of it had been taken for new road construction which should come from the loan fund and which it was expected the loan fund, had it materialized would reimburse. Unless some assist-ance could be obtained from the national treasury even the work of ordi-nary road repairing would have to be stopped. Mr. McCandless said that enough could probably be squeezed out to keep up ordinary road repairs. "That's the condition of the trens-ury," said the superintendent of public works. "Now, what do you want?"

Most of those present quit "wanting" right there, except wanting to go home, and their carefully prepared memoranda of what they did want, and the possibility of obtaining that which they foolishly supposed the coming of the superintendent presaged, were kept hidden in their inner consciousness. The talk drifted away into vague generalities, wherein an occasional public eralities, wherein an occasional public need east hesitatingly forth. Mr. Mc-Candless on such occasions remarked: "That's right; you ought to have it." But even this failed to lift the gloom embedded in the rect "No money." embodied in the fact, "No money."
